the negro the right to vote. Conservative Democrats question the wisdom of the action taken, and are fearful of the outcome, while Republicans denounce in unmeasured terms the course of their oppohents.

Senators Wilkinson, Zihiman, Mathias and Speicher, Republicans, preciet that the enactment of this law will prove a boomerang and insure the deteat of the Democrats at the next election. Mr. Wilkinson goes so far as to say that the election of a Republican Governor is now a certainty. They contend that the negro is the only asset left the Democrats, and with him eliminated thousands of members of that party, who favor Republican principles, will vote as they have been voting at national elections. They base this assertion on the fact that Maryland has been gravitating toward the Republican party since 1896.

Independent Democrats heading the Reform League do not believe the courts will sustain the contention that Maryland is not obliged to recognize the fitteenth amendment because it was not adopted individually by this State.
